Description:

I would like a website that has multiple pages regarding tetris and a focus on a particular one called tetris with friends. I'd like a side navigation bar that looks like the next piece in the actual tetris game, and consistent use of the tetris blocks and colors throughout the pages.

The home page should have a simple explanation of the history of tetris. I'd like the instructions or how to play tetris rules on here as well.

I want a page regarding the history of the music, and effects and point system here.

I want a page that explains the different versions of Tetris, then dive into the particular version of tetris with friends.

I'd like a page that connects to an actual tetris playing site.
